Neville High School—A Tradition In Northeast Louisiana

Neville High School is a living monument to excellence.

From the graceful oaks to the alma mater, Neville is steeped in tradition. Since the laying of her cornerstone, Neville has followed certain customs which have instilled pride in all of her students. Some traditions are old and some new, but all contribute to the excellence here at Neville High School.

The physical aspects of Neville High School contribute to her tradition. The building serves as a reminder of days past. Built in 1931, Neville is the oldest school in this area. To those of our present generation, she has always been the same. Neville was built during the depression. Craftsmen labored long hours on every detail. Neville's graceful lines and symmetry are a result of this extra care.

Evergreens surround the campus creating a peaceful atmosphere. In order to add to the beauty of the grounds, the Senior Class of 1969 dedicated the circular garden in loving memory of Dorothy Hodge, Neville's devoted secretary.

The stadium has hosted a tradition of Tiger Pride since 1940. It has seen generations of victory and defeat, but always outstanding has been Tiger sportsmanship.

To accommodate the ever-growing student body, the band building and the annex were added in the sixties. Though built in more recent times, they blend with Neville's stately grace.

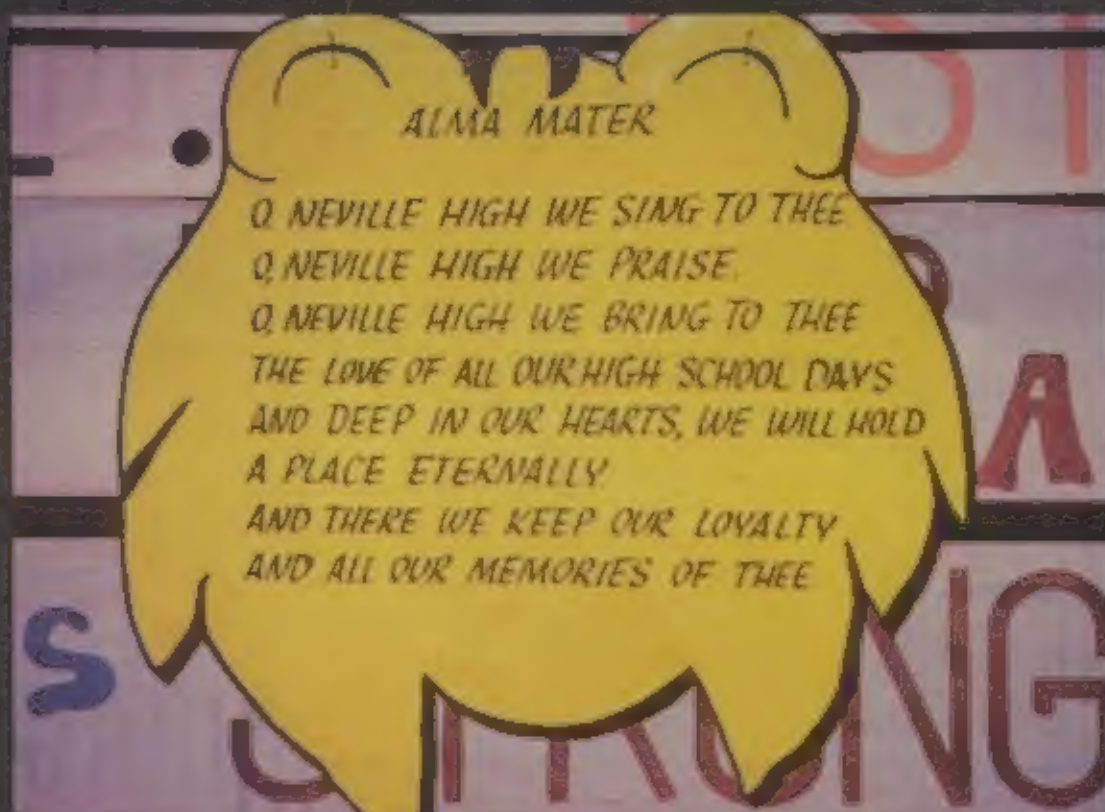

The Dorothy Hodge Memorial Garden blooms beautifully every spring.

The Memorial Plaque honors Neville World War II Veterans.

Honoring the flag of the United States has become a tradition at Neville High School. The practice was initiated after World War II to honor the brave graduates of this school who died in the line of duty. A large flagpole was erected in memory of Theodore F. Terzia. Each morning all students stand at attention as the flag is raised. Afterwards they recite the Pledge of Allegiance. At the end of the day, students remain standing after the bell has rung for the lowering of the flag. This custom makes students aware of their duties as citizens and exemplifies another living tradition of Neville High School.

The Alma Mater is sung at every assembly.

Excellence in academics has always been an important part of the tradition at Neville. A well-qualified teaching staff help provide students with the knowledge and skills needed for college and work. We are proud of our loyal staff, some of whom have remained at Neville for over 20 years. This special distinction belongs to Mr. Charles Brown, Miss Kathryn Douciere, Mrs. Babs Hagar, Mrs. Dot Johnson, Mr. Larry Loftin, and Miss Jane Whittington. Former graduates Mr. Charles Brown, Mr. Joe Coats, Mrs. Dorothy Kiper, Mrs. Joyce Mehl, Mr. Willie Ragan, Mr. Jimmy Rogers, and Mrs. Sue Ward have returned to join the faculty.

We are proud that Neville High School has always had National Merit Scholars. Our students have consistently scored well on college entrance exams. The members of the Neville High School Chapter of the National Honor Society continue to show the scholarship, service, leadership, and character traditional at Neville. Furthermore, every year many students receive academic scholarships to colleges and universities all over the country. As a result of the excellent academic background obtained at Neville, our students perform successfully wherever they go.

Spiritmakers Arouse Enthusiasm

Neville High School has always been noted for its spirit. Membership in spirit promoting organizations brings both high honors and hard work. Cheerleaders, Tigerettes, and band members have boosted school morale since the school's early years. Cheerleaders put long hours into the organization of pep assemblies, bonfires, dress-up days, and other activities. They attend cheerleading camp each summer and hold clinics. The Tigerettes were established in 1937, but it wasn't until 1946 that, with the help of Coach Bill Ruple and Miss Mae Coker, they became more involved in school activities. Their support is the backbone of Neville's spirit. Band members bolster enthusiasm by playing team songs such as "Tiger Rag" and "Loyalty." They also put on colorful half-time shows and represent Neville in community activities.

In recent years, two new Tiger attractions have been added—Shasta, our mascot, and the fabulous Bengal Belles. The first Shasta was purchased in 1964. School children of all ages contributed the money. Since then he has been succeeded by two others. Shasta has become a tradition symbolizing our great Tiger Pride. Since their formation in 1969, the Bengal Belles have won fame statewide. They dance at assemblies, athletic contests and public events. The Bengal Belles represent a tradition of excellence.

Neville athletes have always upheld the winning tradition by excelling in all types of sports. We are proud of this tradition, and we show our pride on the scoreboard, not on the walls and campuses of other schools. Neville Tigers never boo officials or other players, and we never make excuses for losing a game. Although we are a small school, we constantly accept the challenges offered by larger ones by striving for the best from every one of our players.

Excellent football teams are a tradition at Neville, and we are known all over the state for our outstanding performances on the football field. In the last 30 years we have reached the playoffs 17 times and claimed the State Championship 5 times. Our record since 1945 is 280 won and 81 lost. Other schools may come and go, but Neville has traditionally remained on top.

Although Neville is known all over the state for football, other sports are not neglected. Our basketball teams always strive for excellence. We have captured the State Basketball Championship twice in 1957 and 1964. Neville won the District Championship several times in the 1950's and 1960's. The 1978-79 team produced the first winning record in 4 years, a tradition we hope to continue. The girl's basketball team, reinstated in 1978, has exhibited true Tiger spirit this year by organizing the homecoming dance.

Spring sports are important at Neville, too. Our baseball team has one of the "winningest" records in the state. They have won 127 and lost 31 since 1972. Six times they have brought home the State Championship trophy. Five former Tigers have gone on to play professional baseball. Neville has had 8 All-State baseballers in the last 15 years. Numerous baseball players have continued their educations by earning collegiate athletic scholarships.

The golf team has also traditionally placed high in state competitions. They won the State Championship in 1957, 1963, 1975, 1976, 1977, and 1979; and placed second in 1978. The Neville golf team has won its regional every year except one since the first year we had a team. Neville has had several players on golf scholarships, and there are 7 former Tigers presently playing college golf.

Other spring sports that are part of Neville's tradition are track, tennis, and fishing. The Neville track team has many trophies to show for their diligent efforts. We have had many outstanding tracksters perform with the traditional excellence characteristic of Neville. The tennis team has always represented Neville well in various tournaments held throughout the state. Both our men and women players are known to tennis buffs. Although little is heard about the fishing team, they recently brought home several first place trophies. Fishing is a new Tiger sport which has already proved to be part of the winning Tiger tradition.

The hard working coaching staff help to uphold the winning Tiger tradition. Coaches Brown, Coats, Pee, Ragan, Smith, and Vallery contribute their time, thought, and energies to maintaining the level of excellence in sports at Neville.

Tiger Assemblies and Homecoming-Time-Honored Traditions

Since 1937, homecoming activities have been traditional at Neville. Homecoming week is always an exciting time. Every year Alumni "come home" to Neville and share in the traditional homecoming activities. Present homecoming activities center around the school. Different clubs and organizations make displays aimed at promoting Tiger spirit and place them around the front circle of the school. The National Honor Society sponsors a spirit link contest. Freshmen, juniors, and seniors buy spirit links for 5 cents each, and the class with the longest chain wins. The football team chooses a Homecoming Queen and Court who are presented at the assembly by the nominating player and then at the game that night by a notable alumnus. A bonfire held the night before the game helps to "fire-up" the students. The next afternoon the Student Council conducts a multi-media presentation which helps bring about a sense of harmony and loyalty toward the school. To further welcome our alumni, the Home Economics Department and the Athletic Department invite guests at the assembly to a morning coffee. That night the Key Club sponsors a spaghetti supper before the game. Both of these events are part of the more recent Neville traditions.

The Bengal Bells performed exceptionally well at the homecoming assembly.

Many old traditions are connected with the assemblies at Neville. Every underclassman has dreamed of the time when he can finally march into the auditorium as a senior, envied and admired by the standing student body. The president of the Student Council presides over every assembly, which always begins with the opportunity for individual silent prayer, the Pledge of Allegiance, and the "Star Spangled Banner." Neville students take pride in the high standards of conduct traditional at Neville and behave themselves accordingly.

Although we are few in number, no other school can match our spirit and enthusiasm. No assembly would be the same without Shasta and his own "Tiger Spirit." The students' response to such traditional cheers as "Gimme a Tremendous T," "V-I-C-T-O-R-Y," and "T-Bir" is overwhelming. The freshmen, juniors, seniors, and band compete fiercely for the Spirit Stick, but no matter which group receives the award, it's always the entire student body that wins it. Finally everyone grows quiet as the words to the Alma Mater appear and the band begins to play. A shiver of pride runs down everyone's spine as voices rise together on the last notes singing, "and all our memories of thee."

Clubs add to Neville High School's traditional academic excellence. The MONROYAN staff has consistently produced an annual. Yearbooks, formerly called the SQUEEDLNK, date back to the early years of Monroe High School. The title was changed in 1931 to honor the city which had built its students such an outstanding school.

The Student Council is as much a part of Neville as Neville itself. Established in 1931, it is a time-honored tradition. Neville was one of three schools in the state to first organize the Louisiana Association of Student Councils and since then has held the state offices of President, Vice-President, and Parliamentarian.

The National Honor Society also has a legacy of tradition. It was formed in 1932. Students having a B average, teachers' recommendations, and outstanding moral character are chosen as members. The National Honor Society produces an annual student directory, sponsors Teacher of the Month, and participates in various community activities.

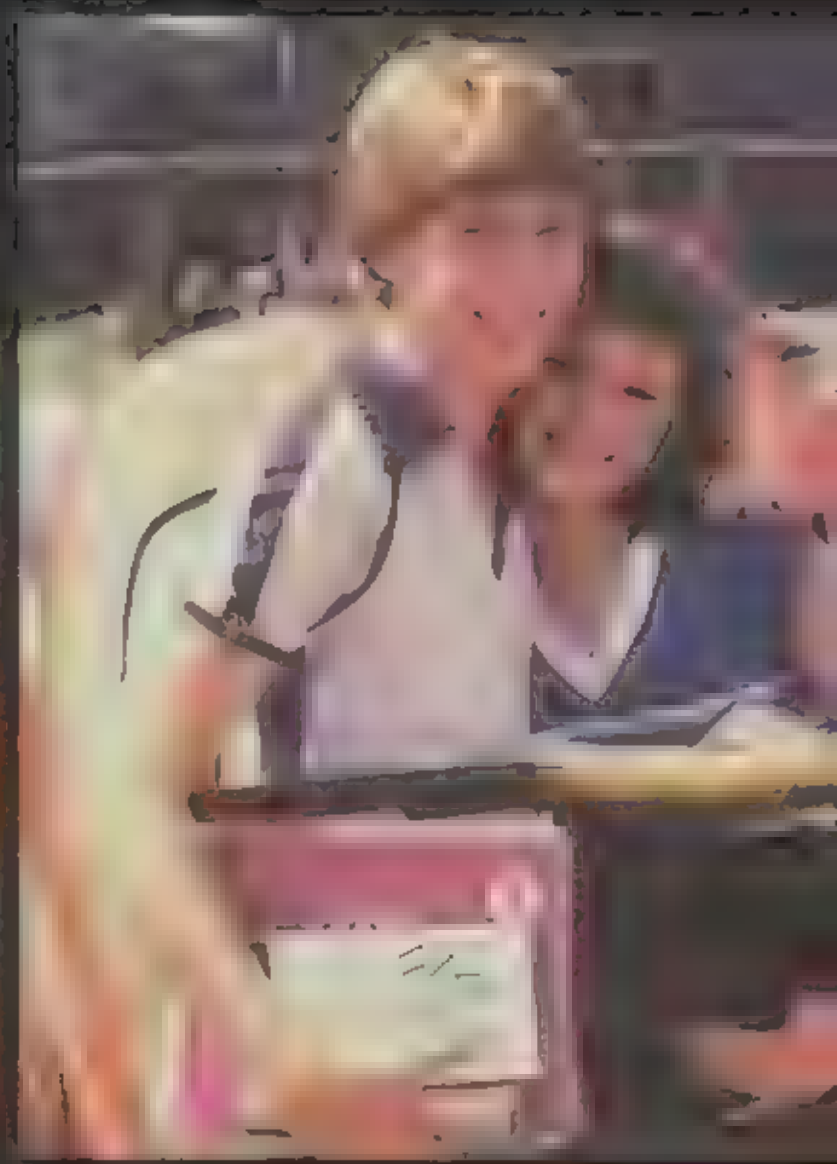

Clubs supplementing regular academic programs are not a new tradition. The Speech Club, Home and Family Living Club, Latin Club, Foreign Language Club, and the Future Business Leaders of America serve as a link between the classroom and extracurricular activities.

The Key Club is a boys' organization which provides services to the community. The Octagon Club, one of the more active clubs, participates in civic, school, and money-making projects. It is an extension of the Optimist Club. Representatives from each club form the Inter-Club Council, which oversees the activities of the various organizations of Neville High School.

Student life at Neville involves more than just coming to school six hours a day. Students participate in many different activities that contribute to their overall enjoyment of life. Students traditionally have derived much pleasure from working and playing together. Many friendships are formed at Neville that last longer than the four years students attend here. Spirit and pride are exhibited in all school activities.

Outstanding Students Gain

National Merit Semi-Finalists John White, William Erwin, Matt Meinel, Kathy Sims

Neville's tradition of high academic achievement was continued this year with the announcement of National Merit Semi-Finalists. Although a school the size of Neville would normally have .5 NMSF, Neville had four. They are—William Erwin, Matt Meinel, Kathy Sims and John White. These students are among the top half of one percent of the state's senior class.

After being selected as semi-finalists, they become eligible to compete for other scholarships offered through the National Merit Program. Some 1000 National Merit $1000 scholarships are awarded. To be considered for merit scholarships, semifinalists must qualify as finalists by meeting further requirements—by being fully endorsed and recommended by their principals, submitting records that confirm high academic standing, and substantiating their high qualifying test scores with equivalent scores on the SAT.

The four merit scholars received mail from colleges and universities from all over the country. They represented Neville on several occasions, bringing recognition to their school as well as to themselves. Their pictures, along with those of the eight other semi-finalists from the parish, were published in the News Star World. They were also recognized at a meeting of the Monroe City School Board.

Mike Lawrence—DAR Good Citizen

Mike Lawrence was this year's recipient of the DAR Good Citizen's Award. One student was chosen from each school in recognition for his outstanding achievements and contributions to his school and community. Mike was recognized at a luncheon by the Daughters of the American Revolution. Neville High School is proud of Mike and appreciates all that he has done to better his school.

High Academic Standards Traditional at Neville

During the Summer three Neville Students, Annette Braud, Ashley Wilkins, and Chris McHenry, participated in Girl's State and Boy's State at L.S.U. The purpose of the convention was to learn more about the state government and how it operates. The students were able to participate in their own state government by running for state wide offices in the elections held by the students. After writing their own campaign speeches, Annette Braud was elected Commissioner of Health, Ashley Wilkins was elected to the House of Representatives, and Chris McHenry was elected District Judge. The participants in Boy's State and Girl's State were separated during the week, until a joint convocation, where they heard Governor Edwin Edwards and Senator Gillis Long speak.

The Debate Team works long and hard throughout the year. They represent Neville in debate tournaments held around the state. This summer William Erwin and Steve Nordyke attended camp at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. They have attended tournaments at Byrd High School, Acadiana High School, New Iberia High School, Captain Shreve, La. State University in Shreveport, and the Tournament of Champions.

Members of the debate team spend hours in the library researching for their competitions. They pore through magazines making notes of items of importance. They have accumulated hundreds of notecards on subjects ranging from the Russian influence to the Third World.

For the past ten years, the Bengal Belles have been a tradition at Neville. The 21-member dance team has continued to improve over these years. Their achievements have won them the respect and admiration of their fellow classmates and rival drill teams. Such feats can only be achieved through hours of dedicated practice.

The Bengal Belles started practice early in April, only days after tryouts had been completed. The six girls who had been Bengal Belles the previous year already knew what was expected of them. 'Perfection' The new members found that perfection was not easily obtained. It meant getting to practice at 6:00 every morning and usually staying late during evening practice. The results of this extra effort were shown in Dallas at the S.M.U. Drill Team Camp, where they won a first place trophy in the Intermediate Division and the Show-Off Award on Talent Night.

While not hard at work practicing, the Bengal Belles found time to do special projects for the school, such as painting the gym and placing the big "Welcome" sign in the lobby. They also provided entertainment at assemblies and during half-time at football games.

The end of football season did not mean the end of practice. The Bengal Belles had to prepare for competition against northern Louisiana drill teams at Northwestern University in Natchitoches. Again their practice paid off as they brought home two second place trophies, which qualified them for national competition.

December also brought basketball season. Apart from performing for basketball games at Neville, the Bengal Belles also gave excellent performances during the News Star and Pacemaker Tournaments held at Northeast. Practice continued, and on February 2, the Belles traveled to New Orleans to compete against drill teams from all over the state.

The highlight of the year for the Bengal Belles was their trip to California. For weeks they worked to raise money by asking local businessmen to sponsor them. Finally on February 5, after weeks of waiting, they boarded a plane bound for Los Angeles. There they competed against teams from all over the country in the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Although the trip was filled with more practice and tough competition, they managed to get in some sightseeing.

All good things must come to an end, and so it was for the '79-80 Bengal Belles. As they removed their white boots and black and gold uniforms for the last time, they wondered if the past year had been worth all the extra effort. But as they remembered the standing ovation they had received at the Talent Show, their last performance before the school, they realized that it had indeed been worth all the tears and sweat.

The holiday season was celebrated at Neville with many traditional Christmas-time activities. The students were filled with the spirit of Christmas, which was expressed on the classroom doors, in candy-grams, and in the Christmas Program presented by Miss Harris' choir and the band

The Student Council sponsored the door-decorating contest in which prizes were awarded to the best doors in three different categories. Office 105 won in the religious category, while Coach Brown's homeroom won in the humorous category, and Mr Rogers' homeroom won in the most original category. The Student Council also sold homemade wassail and Christmas cookies in the lobby

The Interclub Council placed a Christmas tree in the center of the lobby. They also strolled through the halls singing carols on the last day of school before Christmas. Christmas carols were played each morning over the Intercom before school to help everyone get into the spirit

The Speech Club sold candy-grams every morning. Friends and sweethearts were able to send seasons greetings and candycanes to each other

On December 18, the traditional Christmas assembly was held. The choir sang Christmas carols to the accompaniment of Sharon Robinson on the piano and Cassandra Douglas on the flute. Featured soloists were Frank Bonner, Kathy Funderburk, Francis Henry, and Bruce McCoy. As a special attraction, Santa Claus and two of his elves told the Christmas wishes of several Neville students. Outside Activities Are

This year, students at Neville were able to benefit from the knowledge and experience of many different guest speakers. In order to provide students with information not included in textbooks, several teachers invited outside speakers, who related their experiences in fields ranging from juvenile law to nuclear physics.

Dr. Russ Williams talked to Mrs. Dixon's English III classes about ALL THE KING'S MEN. Mrs. Kilpatrick's classes heard Lawson Swearingen talk about running a political campaign. A Navy Nuclear Physicist spoke to Science classes and the Advanced Math Classes.

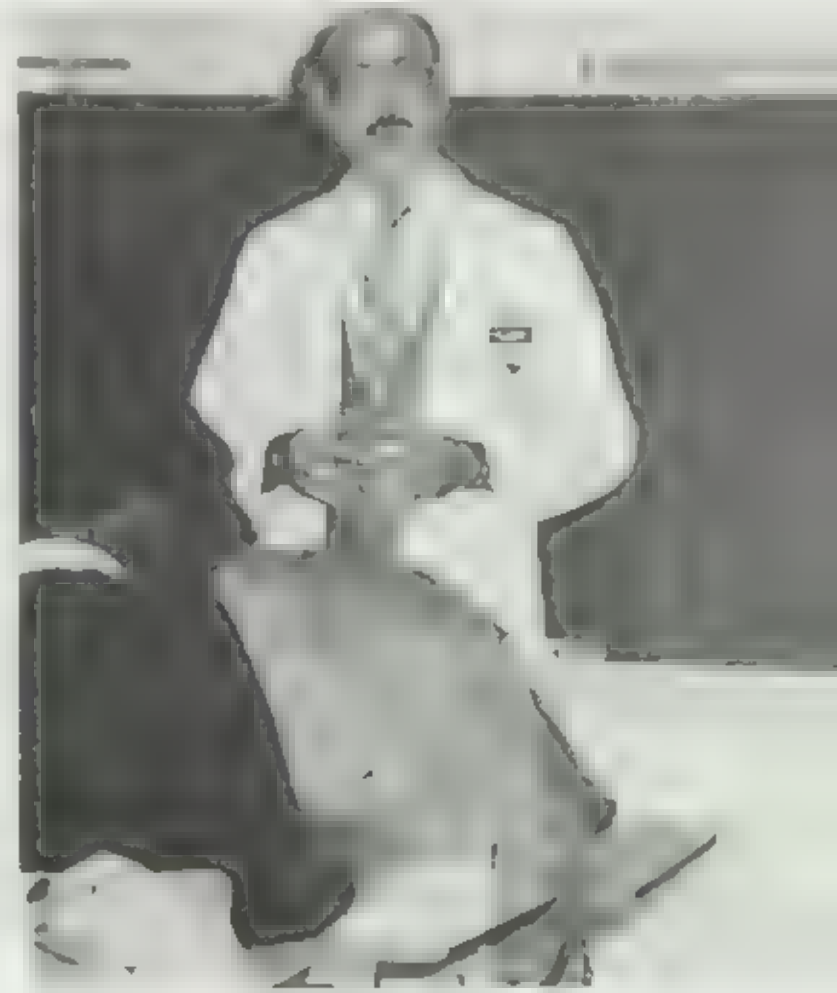

Mrs. Johnson's students heard several guest speakers during the year. Several ministers were invited to answer questions the students had written. Dr. August Dante warned of the danger involved in mixing common medicines. Officer Crocker, from the Monroe Police Dept., discussed how the law affects teenagers. Several representatives from the Substance Abuse Center spoke to the students in Mrs. Johnson's Home and Family Living Club. Mrs. Pat Meriwether spoke on coping with problems in the homes and families of today's young people.

Former Neville head coach, Bill Ruple, spoke to a crowded auditorium at the Thanksgiving night assembly. He inspired the Tigers with tales of the courage of former Neville athletes.

Not only do students benefit from guest speakers in the classroom, but also they gain valuable experience from activities held outside the classroom. These outside events help make learning a more enjoyable experience for both the student and the teacher. Although students must often travel out of town, or even out of state, to reach their destination, sometimes events are held much closer to home.

Mrs. Blanchard's Speech classes travel all over the state to attend speech tournaments and festivals. There they compete in both acting and debate, and by placing 1st, 2nd, or 3rd, they are eligible to attend the Tournament of Champions.

In April, the band journeyed to Knoxville, Tennessee to participate in the 1980 Dogwood Arts Band Festival. Bands from all over the nation compete in 3 areas of competition—concert, parade, and street drill—relative to their concert classification.

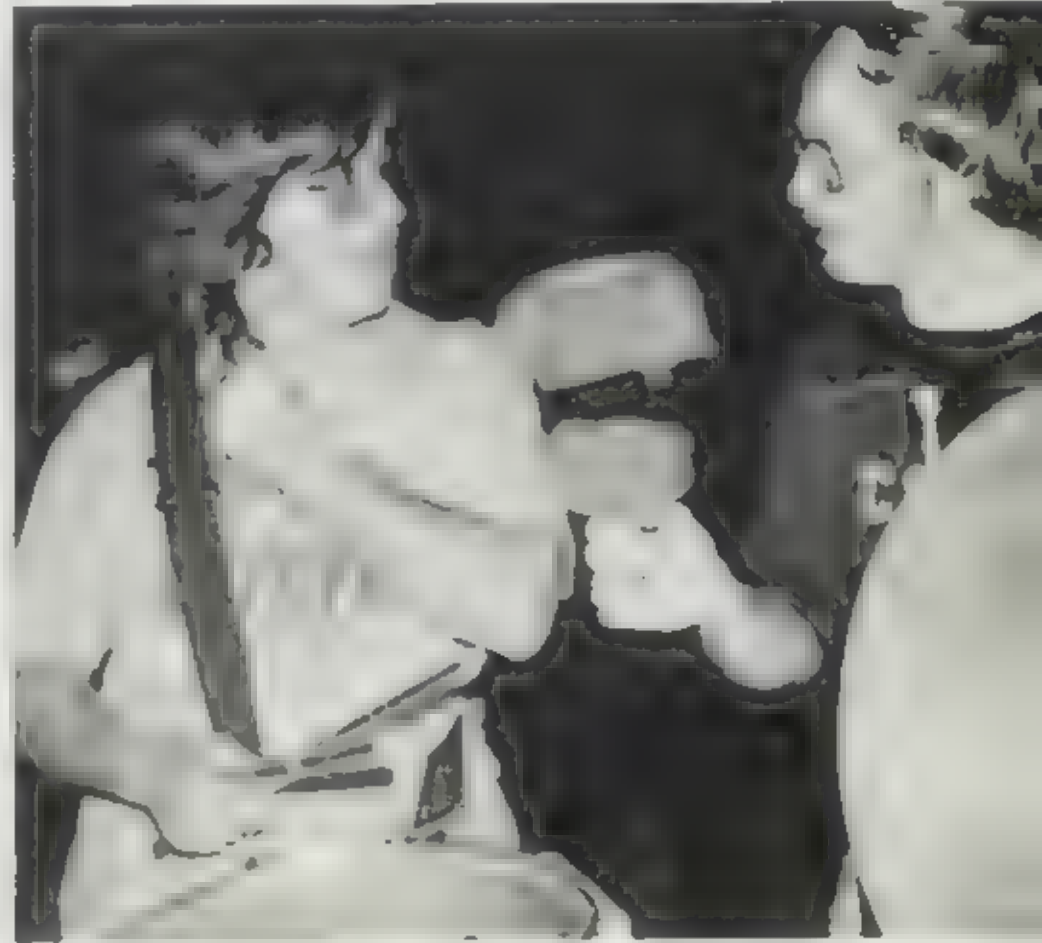

Area High School Seniors were invited to Career Day at Northeast on Nov. 6. There they were given a chance to investigate the different types of careers open to them. On Dec. 5 students were invited to the La. Tech campus for Tech Day. Students were able to visit the various departments they were interested in. The 1st annual LSU Rally Day at the W M Convention Center gave area high school Juniors and Seniors a chance to become better acquainted with La. State University.

Mrs. Mehl's Advanced English III class made their annual visit to Natchez, Miss. to tour the antebellum homes on view during the Natchez Pilgrimage. French, Spanish and Latin classes went to La. Tech for the Foreign Language Festival. While there, they were given a chance to participate in the cultural events of other countries.

Many extracurricular activities were held closer to home. The Home Economics facilities were used to hold the reception for Alums after the Homecoming Assembly and the reception for the 32 newly inducted members of the Honor Society.

Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. Tonore were only two of the alums who came to the tea after the homecoming assembly.

New Decade Brings Many Changes

Karen Townley looks back on past decades

Louise Seymour wonders what changes the next decade will bring

1979-80 was an eventful year, not only at Neville, but also elsewhere across the nation. The new decade brought about many changes, and students at Neville were active participants in the ever-changing world around them. This year, more than ever, outside events affected the daily lives of students everywhere

On November 4, our American Embassy in Iran was seized by militant Iranian students. For months fifty Americans were held hostage by an angry nation demanding the return of their exiled Shah. Then, in December, Russian troops invaded the neighboring country of Afganistan. As a threat of war hung over the entire nation, students realized that they had been given a chance to view history as it was being made. When President Carter proposed the reinstitution of the draft, they anxiously watched news reports and discussed among themselves the effects that a war could have on their own generation

On the local scene, a statewide election was held in November. The Speech Club sponsored a mock election at Neville. Ballots were passed out in the homeroom, and, after the votes had been counted, Paul Hardy won and Dave Treen came in second. The Speech Club and the Octagon Club were asked to aid KNOE in reporting the votes on Saturday's election. In the December run-off, the Tigerettes reported the votes to the news station. By participating in the election process, students gained valuable experience and a better understanding of their government

As the price of gas soared past $1.00 a gallon, Neville students witnessed many changes in their lifestyles. Resorting to more efficient methods of transportation, some students traded in their gas-guzzling automobiles for fuel-efficient Mopeds

Although the seventies brought many changes to Neville, the eighties will bring even more. But whatever the new decade has in store, the many time-honored traditions of Neville High School will remain the same

The 1980 MONROYAN carries on a tradition established in previous years. The cover of the 1979 and 1980 editions are replicas of the first volume of the MONROYAN published in 1932. Throughout the years, the cover-depicting the Neville tower, has been reproduced in numerous volumes of the MONROYAN. The distinctive cover has won the praise of schools and universities from all over the South.

Spring Has Traditions of Its Own

Sharon Robinson practices before Talent Show auditions

Mimi Kincaid's dance entertains everyone

Spring is an eventful time at Neville. Most of February and March is spent practicing for the Talent Show. The theme for this year's talent show was "Tiger Night Live", a parody of the popular TV show, "Saturday Night Live". Many talented students—and some not so talented—were anxious to show off their skills in this annual event. The Bengal Beaus, a group of Senior boys who imitate the Bengal Belles, are a traditional attraction at the Talent Show. At the closing of the show, the Bengal Belles danced their last dance of the year. Much hard work and intense preparation went into the show, but the end result proved to be worth the effort.

Superstars competition was held in April. Seniors participated in events ranging from "Hamburger-eating" to "softball throwing." The competition was fierce, but the best man and woman finally won the distinguished "Superstar" trophy.

On May 22 the senior class realized a dream that had finally come true—Graduation. It took 12 long years, but the reward was worth the wait. As the gifts poured in from relatives and friends, the seniors were finally able to relax and enjoy the fruits of their labor—alarm clocks, dictionaries, luggage, and for some, new cars and even trips to Europe.

Students Successfully Shoulder New Responsibilities

During their years in high school, students begin to take on more and more responsibility. They are given the chance to participate in their own student government—the Student Council. Members of the Student Council have successfully fulfilled their responsibility to their fellow classmates. Not only do they provide a medium between the administration and the student body, but they also plan activities and special events throughout the year.

Each month the Student Council recognizes the students who have made substantial contributions to Neville High School. The National Honor Society honors the outstanding teachers who have contributed their time and effort to aid both their students and their school.

The 79-80 student body proudly accepted their responsibilities as students and by working, playing, cheering, and pulling together successfully completed another school year.

Mr. Larry Loftin does an outstanding job of leading Neville High School. He supervises school operations and projects, and guides teachers, yet he always has time for any student needing assistance. An ardent hunter, Mr. Loftin served bear meat to the teachers for lunch one November day.

Assistant principal Mr. Lawrence McGough, is responsible for discipline and attendance. He has kept "skip days" to an all-time low. Mr. McGough is always ready to support Mr. Loftin or talk to any troubled students.

Linda Whittington assists Mr. Loftin. She is in charge of all school correspondence and a tremendous amount of other paperwork. She handles all her duties competently, then makes time for extras, such as decorating the door of office 105 for the Christmas Season. Jeanne Guillot spends many of her free periods helping out in office 105. Without her valuable help Mrs. Whittington would be unable to complete her many tasks.

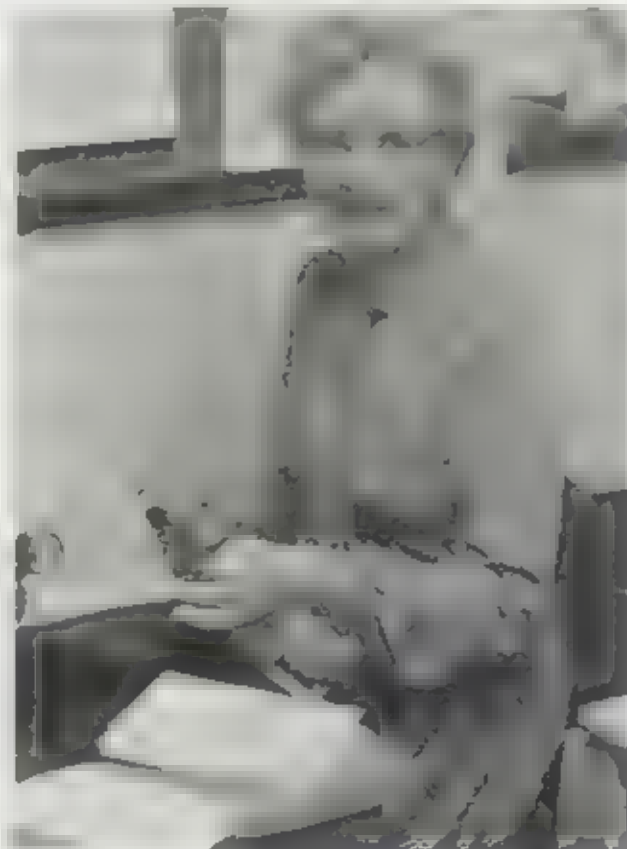

Miss Kathryn Douciere is Neville's Guidance counselor for upperclassmen. At the beginning of each term her office is jammed with confused students seeking advice about their schedules. She also assists students with post high school plans. Whether problems concern scholarship opportunities, choosing the "right" college, finding a summer program, or preparing the best schedule, Miss Doucier is always there with a smile ready to help.

Mr. Nathan Jones assists freshmen with schedule preparations. He patiently explains the importance of a well-rounded education. Young tigers look to him for the knowledge and support necessary for getting a strong start.

Mrs. Dorothy Kiper assists both Mr. McGough and Miss Douciere with secretarial work. She busies herself typing, keeping school records, answering phones, and recording grades. The smooth efficiency with which Neville is run is due to Mrs. Kiper's devotion.

Mrs. Whittington informs teachers of the day's happenings.

Mrs. Kiper serves as secretary for guidance and attendance offices.

Student helper, Jeanne Guillot, assists Mrs. Whittington in Office 105.

English, Speech, and Foreign Language

The basics of communication are stressed at Neville through the English, Speech, and Foreign Language Departments. Miss Whittington, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Mehl teach three levels of English—basic, general, and advanced—enabling students to develop at their own pace. Mrs. Blanchard's speech classes stress oral communication—delivering speeches, debating, and acting. Students taking speech often attend tournaments and festivals to compete with other students around the state.

Taking a foreign language under Mrs. Brosset or Mrs. Bedell enables a student to unlock many doors which would otherwise remain closed. A knowledge of Latin provides a better understanding of the English language, while mastering French or Spanish serves as a key to broadening one's knowledge of the outside world.

A film library serving the entire Monroe City School System is housed at Neville, and films are shown in the Audio-Visual room by Mrs. Kuleke. These films increase the students awareness of things beyond the classroom, and serve as a link with the rest of the world.

Mr. Harry Rushing
Mr. Richard Wagoner

All Neville graduates are required to have a basic workable knowledge of mathematics. Courses such as Math I and Consumer Mathematics provide skills necessary in everyday life. Mrs. Dawson, Mr. Luther, and Mr. Wagner teach these courses. Mr. Rushing and Mr. Wagner teach Algebra I. This course prepares freshmen for higher levels of mathematics

Although most students take geometry at Carroll, a geometry class is offered at Neville. Mr. Rushing instructs students enrolled in this course such skills as geometric constructions and proofs

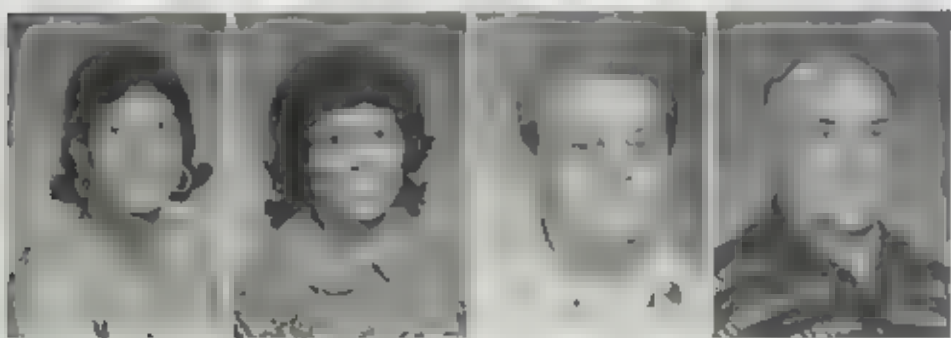

Mr. Rogers teaches Algebra II—a popular course for Juniors and Seniors. The various functions and graphing techniques studied allow students to take college math courses without a handicap. Seniors seeking a challenge in mathematics take Advanced Math. Mr. Rogers presents a strong review of functions, a thorough semester of trigonometry, and an introduction to calculus. Mr. Rogers, a Neville graduate himself, has been a valuable asset to Neville's math department, often spending hours before and after school helping his students

Mr. Rushing eagerly waits to give his students test

Mrs. Harris is loved by all her students

Mrs. Bobbie Butler
Mrs. Lula Harris

Coach William Smith

Neville has an outstanding science department. Most freshmen take either general science or biology. Mrs. Harris and Coach Smith teach general science. Students taking general science gain a basic knowledge necessary for studying more advanced science.

Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Harris teach biology. Living organisms, their internal organs, characteristics, and classifications, are studied. Students have different reactions when required to dissect frogs, lizards, and clams. Coach Smith teaches earth science—the study of the earth, its composition and influencing factors. This course is very popular with students interested in their world.

Students hoping to receive a Neville diploma are required to take either chemistry or physics. Mrs. Butler teaches chemistry. The periodic table, quantum mechanics, states of matter, and chemical equations are some of the topics studied. Experiments in the laboratory allow students to witness reactions first hand. Neville's chemistry class provides excellent preparation for more advanced college classes. Mr. Luther teaches physics. Students study force, acceleration, and energy. Principles of electricity and gravity are demonstrated. Physics provides students with a basic background in the physical sciences.

Social Studies and business courses help to give students a better understanding of the past, present, and future.

History classes such as World History and American History give the student a sense of the past—a much-needed background in today's society. Coach Pee's American History classes not only study history, but also keep up with current events by relating them to past events in America's history. Courses in Civics and Government, taught by Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mr. Rankins, and Mr. Vallery, enable the student to better understand the present by understanding the laws that govern our society.

Business courses help to prepare students for a future in the business world. Mrs. Kilpatrick's Free Enterprise classes learn about the advantages of our free market system, and Coach Ragan's General Business Classes learn how to apply the principles of good business to everyday life. Mrs. Ward teaches her students skills such as typing, shorthand, and clerical office practice which often prove useful in any career.

All of these courses are studies of society, and no student can successfully complete his high school education without a basic background in Social Studies.

P.E. Education Outside the Classroom

While other high school courses provide for the development of the mind, physical education provides for the development of the body. Although only two years of P.E. are required many 'students' prefer to take a P.E. class all four years of high school. Students involved in all types of sports receive credit in P.E., including Tigerettes and Bengal Belles Volleyball, basketball, ping-pong and other sports enjoyed during P.E. are all designed to improve co-ordination and build healthier bodies. The P.E. department at Neville does all it can to encourage students to exert their bodies as well as their minds. Mrs. Hagar and Mrs. Spears constantly think of new ways to make their girls' P.E. classes more interesting, while Coach Brown and Coach Coates often have to prod their boys into exerting some energy. Often a student will schedule a P.E. course expecting to get an easy A, but finds himself having to work very hard for his grade.

Electives Offer Variety

The Home Economics Department teaches students the skills necessary to run a successful household. In this course students learn the most efficient methods of food preparation and service, clothing construction, and wardrobe planning. Students also learn the value of good nutrition and the proper care of children. Mrs. Johnson is always available to students for advice and counseling, and is always ready to lend her services wherever they are needed.

In Home and Family Living classes students learn how to deal with problems, get along with others, and meet the challenges and responsibilities of life. Students are also given an opportunity to use the facilities of the Home Economics Department. Guest speakers included several ministers, a policeman, a psychiatric social worker, and a representative from the Monroe Substances Abuse Center.

The art department encourages the development of creative expression. Students learn the fundamentals of art—proportion, color harmony, and balance—as they progress through the four levels of art taught at Neville. Under the direction of Mr. Millard, students develop a true appreciation of line and color. Their projects are graded on a combination of effort and skill.

The Industrial Arts Department teaches students a wide variety of skills. In this class students learn everything from small-engine repair to mechanical drawing. By learning to use power saws and compress drills, students gain a sense of accomplishment. Those students planning to become architects or engineers often take mechanical drawing. This course teaches the art of drawing buildings, objects, and lines precisely to scale.

The Music Department at Neville, which includes both the band and the choir, enriches the lives of all students in some way or another. Playing and singing at school activities are important functions of the music department. The wonderful Christmas program staged by the choir and the band was the result of long weeks of practice.

The Neville High School Band provides the spirited and lively music at the pep assemblies. Miss Harris does an excellent job of directing and presenting the music programs of the choir. Mr. Hensley, the band director, also teaches band at several elementary schools and insures that the traditions surrounding the Neville band will continue.

A broad spectrum of education for exceptionalities is offered in the Special Education Department. Students who are eligible can benefit from instruction in the Learning Disabled, Slow Learner, E.M.R. resource rooms, and the Hearing-Impaired Self-contained classroom. Each Area functions independently with the co-operation of the regular classroom teachers to provide remediation for these students.

Mrs. Paula Kohrig teaches special education classes. These classes are a tutorial service for students with learning disabilities in certain areas. Regular classroom students who have, through testing, shown the need for a tutor in one or more of their academic subjects are eligible for this class.

Neville has a first-rate cafeteria. Dorothy McDaniel (manager), Ceola Barnes, Gladys Clark, Roberta Hunter, and Vera Mansfield prepare delicious lunches for hundreds of hungry students twice a day. Their efforts to provide better nutrition for Neville's students are greatly appreciated.

Seniors of 1980

Three capable and willing leaders, Matt Meinel, Jim Hollister, and Sally Mintz, led the senior class to a successful and eventful year. President Matt Meinel was always willing to lend a hand, and was constantly available to hear any suggestions offered by his fellow students.

The senior class held poster parties, had breakfasts at Sambo's and won the Spirt Link contest on Homecoming. The class of '80 proved that the senior traditions of spirit and leadership will continue through the 80's.

Because they have attended NHS for the longest time, the seniors are the most familiar with the Neville traditions, and are admired and respected by the underclassmen. Although it may not always be true, seniors are often regarded as being older and wiser. Seniors realize this, and perhaps this knowledge makes them stand a little taller, walk a little prouder, and try a little harder. Often it is the knowledge that a freshman is watching him that prevents a senior from breaking some rule that he has often broken before. Underclassmen have long looked forward to becoming seniors, and nothing can contain their pride as they march into the auditorium for the first time as seniors, or when they march out the last time as graduates.

For Academic Achievements

Seniors were recognized for their academic achievements. In a fall assembly, academic letters were presented to eighteen students having a cumulative "B" average for six semesters. Those long hours of study seemed endless but students were rewarded with the overwhelming pride and sense of achievement they felt upon the stage as recipients of this honor.

Two seniors, Matt Meinel and John White, have above a 4.0 average. By taking special advanced classes, they received five points for an "A." Their consistent achievements should be commended.

Kathy Sims, William Erwin, Matt Meinel, and John White were the four National Merit Scholars from the Class of 1980. This title is awarded to only 1/2 of one percent of all high school seniors. Kathy, William, Matt, and John were presented to the school board and had their pictures taken for the newspaper.

An exciting event for seniors is ordering caps, gowns, and invitations for graduation ceremonies. Representatives from Star Engraving Company sponsor a senior meeting in October to explain the procedures and answer any questions. For weeks afterwards seniors everywhere can be seen making their selections. Heads must be measured and sizes must be judged. All invitations have beautifully engraved corners with a variety of options offered for the inside. Extras such as Thank-you notes, memory books, and senior jewelry are also available. Each selection is an important decision to a graduating senior. After forms are turned in, graduation begins to seem more like a reality and less like a dream.

To End of School Trips

After successfully completing twelve years of school most seniors feel the need to take an end of the year trip. Friends get together and plan their vacation for weeks. Finally school is out for the seniors, and time comes for the vacation to begin. One of the most popular vacation spots is Florida. There, long days of warm sunshine are spent on the white sands admiring the frothy waves. Some seniors are lucky enough to go further afield to places such as Hawaii and even Europe. These trips are often the first taste of complete freedom and responsibility.

Term Papers Caused

During the second nine weeks of school, Mrs. Mehl assigned term papers to her senior classes. They were due the Monday after the Thanksgiving holidays, and, as usual, the students were slow getting started. The public library was crowded during the week of Thanksgiving with students hurrying to finish researching their subjects. Many students spent Thanksgiving Day frantically writing in an attempt to finish before the Monday deadline. The unfortunate few who could not find anyone else to type their term papers spent the weekend typing it themselves.

Finally Monday morning arrived and it was time for the finished copy to be handed in, complete with rough draft and notecards. Many students breathed a sigh of relief, but then immediately began worrying about the grades they would receive. Although the work was over for the students, it had just begun for Mrs. Mehl, who spent weeks grading the papers.

When the seniors finally leave Neville they are well prepared for college courses. Neville has traditionally encouraged students to take courses designed to prepare them for college. Students taking the required curriculum receive a Neville diploma in addition to the state diploma. This curriculum includes four years of English, three years of math, two years of science, and two years of a foreign language.

An adequate background in these subjects is often very useful in college and is sometimes the deciding factor in a student's gaining admission to the college of his choice. Most senior classes are geared toward the college-bound student, and teachers constantly remind students of the hardships to be expected in college. This diligent preparation pays off in the end. Neville graduates have always excelled in college, and college professors constantly praise former Neville students.

Seniors Are Proud

Neville High School at sunrise

The Neville High School coat of Arms is a tradition American Heraldic design. The basic color theme is black and gold. Ribbons above and below display the school name and motto, "pro bond scholae", meaning "for the good of the school!" The tiger mascot leaps over the black and gold wreath at the top of the shield. Laurel leaves, symbolizing achievement, success, and victory, mantle the shield.

The sheild is devided into equal quadrants separated by a chain of interlocking links denoting strength, unity and harmony.

In the upper left quadrant is a quill, superimposed over a scroll, symbols of learning and literature.

In the upper right quadrant, on a field of black, is the golden winged foot of Mercury, symbolizing athletic strength and participation in sports.

In the lower left quadrant is a golden lyre on a field of black denoting music, its appreciation and study.

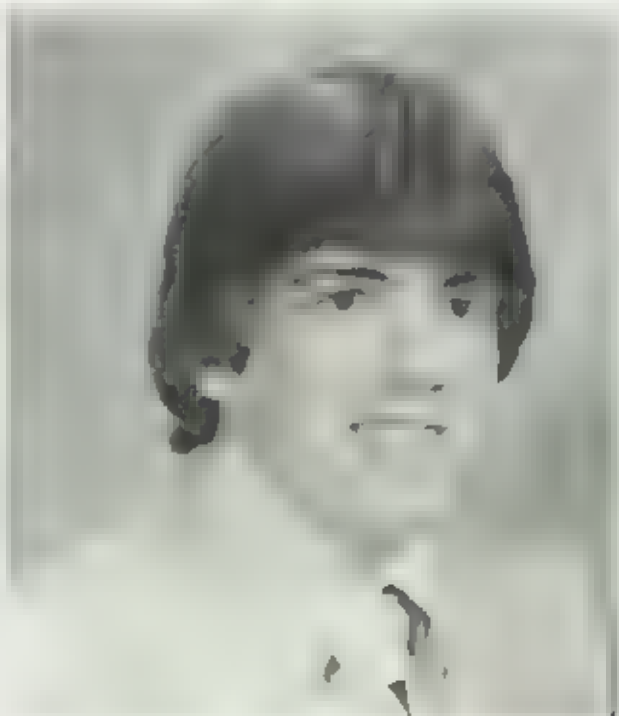

In the last quadrant, in the lower right, is the science symbol of the atom, symbolizing scienific learning and advancement.

Tears and Laughter

The last day of school is a sad occasion for the Seniors. This is the last time we will ever sit in class together—often laughing, sometimes crying, but most of the time, just plain bored. Those moments of hilarity spent laughing over the antics of a classmate, those moments of companionship spent sympathizing over the injustices of a teacher, will soon become only memories. We put away our textbooks and notepads, and, although we may soon get new ones, they will never seem quite the same without the names of our former classmates scribbled in the margin. On the last day of school we finally realize what has often seemed like a dream—this is truly the last day of school. We sit and stare at the friends we've made over the years—can it be true that we may never see some of them again? We will go our separate ways, do our separate things, live our separate lives, and we will never pass this way again.

Junior Tigerettes and Bengal Belles show spirit during assemblies

The first day of school was a special day for the Juniors. After one whole year spent away from Neville, they were finally able to enjoy again all the privileges of being a Neville Tiger. The Juniors soon proved that, even though a year had passed, they were still a part of the great Tiger Tradition. They were eager to enter into the spirited activities associated with Neville—poster parties, assemblies, homecoming, and bonfires.

The Juniors show how glad they are to be back at Neville by yelling louder, studying harder, and actively supporting all activities associated with Neville High School.

One Friday Emily wore her nightgown to school. The students giggled and the teachers shook their heads, but all at Neville knew that she was only showing her spirit by dressing up for Baby Day. Each Friday during football season the cheerleaders asked that the student body dress in some zany fashion to help bolster spirit. Students dug out their oldest clothes for Tacky Day, then they donned cowboy boots and overalls for Farmer Brown Day. Other dressup days included Fired-Up Day, Sports Day, Backwards Day, Fifties Day, Black and Gold Day, Spook Day, and Clown Day

Betsy Moomey proclaims that the Tigers are # 1 on Sports Day.

Tests Can Mean College

Juniors begin preparing for college early in the year by taking various college preparatory tests. Many take the PSAT in hopes of receiving one of the many scholarships sponsored by the National Merit Program. Those planning to attend a college or university in Louisiana take the ACT, while some juniors hoping to go to school out-of-state take the SAT. Taking these tests as juniors often proves to be to their advantage. Juniors are given two extra points on the ACT to compensate for their lack of experience.

Students spend weeks discussing the tests and trying to prepare themselves for tedious hours of testing. Neville students have traditionally scored above the national average and a high score often leads to advanced placement in college courses.

The Juniors came back from Carroll with full steam ahead. There is hardly an organization at Neville that does not have several hard-working juniors as active members. Junior athletes have had outstanding seasons. Quarterback Bobby Brister led the Bengals to the 3AAAA football title. Daren Reeves scored many points for the basketball team, while other juniors led the J.V. teams to victory. Juniors support clubs by serving as officers or by just pitching in on projects. School improvements were made by juniors serving on the Student Council, Octagon Club, and Interclub Council.

Then of course, there is that great Junior Spirit. This year the Juniors decorated Forsythe Avenue with signs, cheered with enthusiasm, and won several Spirit Sticks. Amy Culp, Mary Flo Geisler, and Naomi McCrocklin, our three juniors serving as J.V.

cheerleaders, attended summer camp and spent long hours preparing routines and decorations for games and assemblies. The twelve juniors who joined the Bengal Belles this year were awkward at first, but by September they really deserved their title—The Fabulous Bengal Belles. Juniors in the Flag Corp and the Band promoted the winning tradition. The beat of Junior drummer Robby Wiggins quickened the pace of assemblies.

Since the Junior year is undoubtedly one of the hardest, students find themselves faced with a true challenge. Juniors compete with Seniors in many classes such as chemistry, history, and algebra. Every class at Neville adds something special to every student's education. Juniors—the next leaders of Neville High School—are sure to uphold the Tiger traditions.

Although the sophomores must spend their second year of high school at Carroll, they have traditionally remained a part of all the activities of NHS Neville students at Carroll participate in all types of sports, the NHS band, Tigerettes, and clubs and organizations at Neville. Being away from Neville for a year instills in these students a deeper love for Neville, and, if possible, an even greater sense of pride.

Sophomores love to come to Neville assemblies, and they show it by always yelling the loudest and longest for the Neville Tigers. Although the sophomores do not attend Neville, they still uphold all the traditions associated with Neville. They have poster parties, make homecoming displays, and attend all the nighttime activities at Neville. Many people believe that Neville has only three grades, but obviously Neville would be incomplete without the loyal sophomores at Carroll.

Although many courses are offered at Carroll, the schedules of the sophomores are very similar. Students take courses fundamental for any education such as geometry and English. Advanced classes in those subjects are offered for the challenged students

Though world history is not required, classes are filled. Taking a science during the sophomore year is uncommon, though a few students do take biology. French and Spanish are alive at Carroll. Mrs. Bedell comes from Neville each day to teach two levels of Latin.

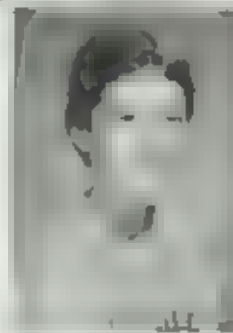

Electives such as typing and art are commonly taken by sophomores. Scheduling a study hall is almost unheard of. P.E. requirements are often completed at Carroll. Sophomore boys playing on the Neville Varsity Football Team are allowed to leave after fifth period so that they can participate in practice at Neville. All in all, sophomores stay busy at Carroll preparing to come back to Neville High School

John Gill and Frank Giovingo enjoy the Tiger atmosphere found at Neville

Freshmen have always dreamed of coming to Neville. On the first day of school, they find themselves lost as they take their first steps toward becoming true Neville Tigers. Soon they find themselves swept up in all of the excitement of fall activities.

The Freshmen come to Neville High School as baby Bengals, but leave here as full-fledged Fighting Tigers—full of pride and tradition they find here at Neville.

Open campus is an exciting new feature of school life for freshmen. At the beginning of each lunch shift, masses of freshmen can be seen anxiously looking for familiar upperclassmen who will give them a ride. Brandy's, McDonald's, and Danny's are favorite places to go. Some students save their money for the week-ends by going home for lunch. The cafeteria also serves delicious lunches for those with no transportation. With only thirty minutes, lunch is rushed, but always fun.

A new tradition at Neville is the Halloween Pumpkin Contest sponsored annually by the Student Council. Each homeroom presents a Jack-o-Lantern entry for display in the lobby. Entries this year ranged from an Indian chief to a Sesame Street character. Mrs. Tucker's homeroom won with a caterpillar entry, followed by "Miss Piggy" from Coach Vallery's homeroom. A bumblebee from Mrs. Blanchard's homeroom pulled in third. Do-nuts were awarded to the winning homeroom.

Tigerettes take a break during the third quarter of a game.

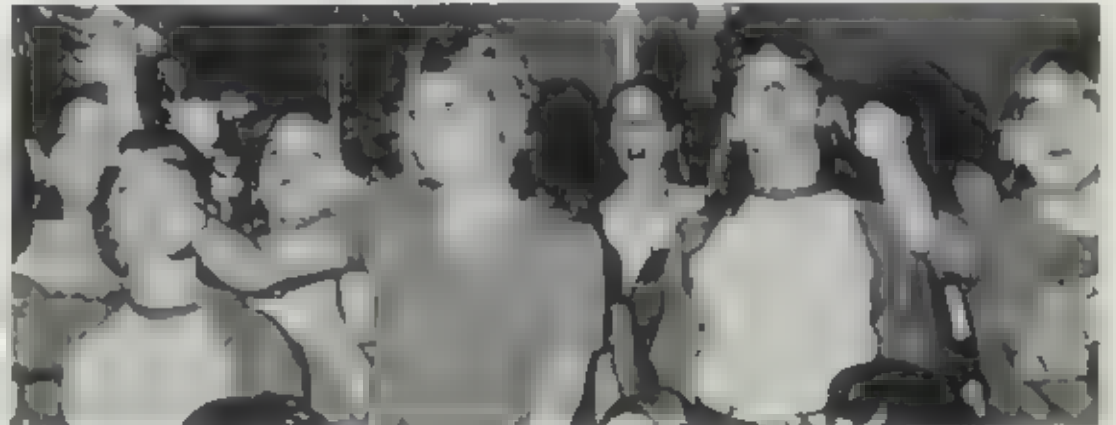

Football games are lots of fun for the Tigerettes.

Although Freshmen are new to Neville, they are not new to the great Tiger Spirit. This young group of Tigers has more than the usual amount of spirit. This year, led by the Freshman Tigerettes, they won the Spirit Stick at their very first assembly—which shows that these freshmen are well-acquainted with the old Tiger traditions.

The Tigerettes did have a fantastic year. Under the direction of Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Wilson, and the Tigerette leaders, they showed some of the excellence of the Tigerettes of years past. Their spirit and support at football and basketball games really spurred the players on to great seasons. They even performed complicated half-time routines with the Tiger Band.

We are proud of these spirited young Tigers, and are confident of their ability to uphold the Neville traditions throughout their high school years.

1979-80 Varsity Cheerleaders

Beginning last spring six special girls, Sally, Cara, Ann, Mandy, Katherine, and Susan, pulled together as one, and from then on they devoted their lives to the betterment of Neville High School. With hazy visions of their high hopes for the future, their goals gradually came in sight.

Each summer morning these six girls were at the school from 6 a.m. till stenciling and painting over 50 signs for the upcoming football season, writing the Alma Mater on the shape of a huge tiger head, painting the football roster on 'Our Tiger Family Tree', making necklaces for each of the football and basketball player's mothers, planning assembly themes, and constructing the enormous theme sign for the auditorium—'The Tigers are on the Move Again'. This touches only the surface of the work these girls did; it would be impossible to write down the innumerable duties they performed.

They had various money-making projects, but the two most outstanding were holding a cheerleader clinic and the selling theme bumper stickers.

With the school year starting, these girls knew they had magic to do and hearts to warm. Many people expected a great deal from them.

In their great pep assemblies, outstanding skits, weekly parties for their players, organizing of Secret Brother Week, decorating for the Homecoming Court and the victory party after the Ouachita game, and always having smiles on their faces and open hearts to their school, they gained respect and reached expectations higher than anyone ever dreamed they could.

It's never easy to say goodbye, especially to people who have given so much to one cause. This describes our farewell to these six girls but the memories they have left behind will never fade. We're grateful to these unique cheerleaders for lifting that special Tiger Spirit to its peak. We can truly say that these cheerleaders were by far the best. Thank you Sally, Cara, Ann, Mandy, Katherine, and Susan; you will remain in our hearts forever!!

TURN YOUR ATTENTION TO THE CENTER AISLE

The Bengal Belles are made up of twenty-one dedicated girls who devoted their entire summer to practice. They worked hard in order to perfect the dances which they took to camp. This year practice paid off as they attended drill team camp at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas. They won a trophy for outstanding dance at Creative Night and tied for first place in the Intermediate Division.

Heads turn as these girls march down the aisles to the stage to perform their precision dances. They entertain the fans at football and basketball games. They compete in competitions in Natchitoches and in New Orleans. They were also asked to perform at Ewing Colliseum at the News Star Tournament and at the Pacemaker Classic. Their final dance came at the end of the year with their performance at the talent show.

Through all the sweat of practice and hard work and tears of frustration and joy, these girls are drawn closer together. In a special way each girl's dream has become a reality. Truly none of them will ever forget her memories of being a Bengal Belle and each will always hold a special place in her heart for these memories.

Through the years the Tigerettes have been the spirit leaders of the school. This year they helped cheer the Neville Tiger Football team all the way to the District Championship.

The Saturday elections for the Homecoming Court began a week of exciting activities. To the girls on the Court it seemed to pass in a blur. On Saturday night the football players nominated their favorites and then a vote was held. The excited girls spent the next week practicing under the direction of Mrs. Johnson, and of course there was shopping to be done. The girls selected two outfits, one for the assembly and another for their halftime presentation that night.

The JV Cheerleaders joined in the excitement. Clubs and organizations worked frantically to prepare their displays while the Varsity Cheerleaders practiced for the festivities. The football team practiced hard for their game against Franklinton. The JV Cheerleaders sold flowers in the lobby. Thursday night a bonfire was held to raise money.

The Friday morning assembly was attended with alumni, parents, and Tiger fans. Coach Brown presented the Court who were escorted by the players who nominated them. Students dressed in the traditional black and gold were so excited that they could hardly concentrate on their classes. The hard work of the Home and Family Living Club paid off when their display won first place.

A large crowd was present at the game to cheer the Tigers and witness the Homecoming Week. The Tigers were leading at the half, but the real excitement was the presentation of the Court. Former Neville athletes escorted Connie Moses, Elizabeth Pere, Ann Tyler, Dawn Wilbanks, and Maid of Honor Katherine Ryan across the field through a line of honor formed by the Tigerettes. A hush fell over Tiger stadium as Cara Medley was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1979. She then reigned over the remaining activities from her throne on the sidelines. The Bengal Belles next danced to the traditional "Hello Tigers" and the game continued with the proud Neville Tigers downing the Franklinton Demons 26 to 20. A dance sponsored by the girls' basketball team was held after the game, and everyone celebrated the traditional Tiger Homecoming Victory.

Players and coaches must work together as one. Neville's coaches offer the dedication and support necessary for the winning combination. Charles Brown serves as head coach for the Tigers. Nothing pleases the players more than receiving a pat of approval from Coach Brown. His strict adherence to traditions has made football at NHS a revered institution. Coach Brown himself is somewhat of a tradition. He has served 29 years as a member of the Neville faculty and coaching staff and 17 years as head coach of the Tigers.

Willie Ragan, a former Tiger athlete and 1958 graduate of NHS, has completed 8 years as Tiger defensive coach. He has inaugurated an out-of-season program which includes weights, flexibility, agility, and running for the NHS Footballers.

Coach Sonny Smith has served 18 seasons as a member of the coaching staff. He assists Coach Brown as the line coach and trainer for the varsity football team. He is the founder and sponsor of the NHS Huddle of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

These three coaches and their 46 players have an impressive record to show for their efforts. They have a 9-3 season and were named Champions of District III AAAA. They proceeded to the Regionals before they were defeated by New Iberia in overtime. J.V. Coach Mike Vallery does an outstanding job as track coach in the spring, while Fresh Coach Joe Coats leads the baseball team through successful seasons.

Neville Tops Ouachita in the Jamboree

The annual Jamboree against Ouachita opened the 1979 football season for the Tigers. After the Freshman Team had shut out Boley and Ouachita J.V. had edged the Neville J.V., 8 to 6, the Varsity Tigers totally dominated their 20 minutes against Ouachita.

After holding Ouachita on their first possession, the Tigers put together an impressive 9-play drive picking up 56 yards. But once they reached the 4, they were unable to take it in for the score.

The game remained scoreless until the 2nd half, when Neville marched down-field on 10 plays picking up 80 yards. Mike Cage then went in for the Touchdown. Four different backs saw action in the game, with Joe Giovingo carrying the ball 4 times for 20 yards, and leading all rushers with 59 yards on 16 carries.

The defense proved to be a powerful force to be reckoned with. They not only shut out their opponents, but also didn't allow the Lions a single first down.

Neville Shuts Out Ruston

The Neville Tigers and the Ruston Bearcats continued their 50-year rivalry with Neville winning its 9th straight victory over Ruston. The game was filled with errors on both sides, but Neville managed to capitalize, thus spoiling the debut of Ruston Coach Chick Childress, former Neville Assistant.

Rob Perry got the scoring underway in the 2nd quarter when he picked up a Ruston fumble and raced 43 yards for a touchdown. Early in the 3rd quarter Joe Giovingo, the game's leading rusher, scored from 3 yards out. That capped a 21-yard drive that began when Neville blocked its second punt of the night and Eric Dawson recovered. The final score came near the end of the 3rd quarter when Laran Ambrose returned a punt for 55 yards. The defense continued to shine, holding tough through several turnovers.

Wossman Squeaks Past Neville

The Tigers met a tough Wossman Wildcat team for the 2nd game of the season. The Wildcats came prepared and ready for the close game to follow. The usually tough Tiger Defense could do no better than hold the Wossman Backs to 425 yards rushing. Wossman—14 and Neville—6 was the score after a half of play.

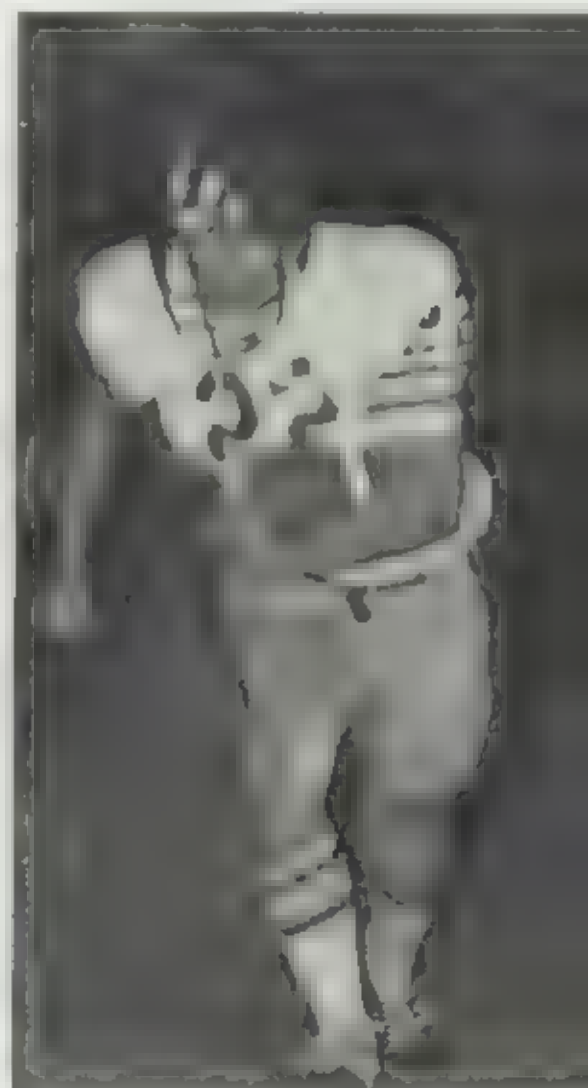

In the 3rd quarter Neville showed some improvement in the Tiger's playing by Walter Brister leading Neville to a 12 to 14 catch up. After Laraun Ambrose blocked a punt by 6 54 left, Neville went ahead 18 to 14. The Wossman offense went for a touchdown again and the score was 18 to 21. Neville ended the game with a safety to make the final score 20 to 21, a heart-breaking loss.

Neville Flies Past Airline

Here come our NEVILLE TIGERS!"

Both the offense and defense shone in this 28 to 7 victory over Airline. The Tiger offense, led by Walter Brister gained 196 yards rushing and 231 yards passing, while the defense allowed the Vikings just 31 yards on the ground and 160 total.

Brister threw 21 times, completing 11 for 193 yards, including a 39-yard scoring toss to Craig Salter in the first quarter. Tony Crews led the defense while the Tigers dominated the 1st half, driving 79 yards in 6 plays on the Tiger's 2nd possession. Brister ran the final 29 yards and provided the PAT.

A Scott Bradford interception led to the 2nd Neville score, with Brister passing to Salter. The 3rd scoring drive covered 67 yards in 7 plays with Todd Hindmon going over from the 2.

After Airline had bounced back for their only score of the night, Laraun Ambrose took the ball at the Neville 31 and weaved his way for the distance.

The Tigers held up against threatening Class AA rival Jonesboro-Hodge, to win 18-12 in a hard-fought battle. The defense held in the ground attack, holding the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers to 66 yards rushing, while the offense gained 252 yards on the ground.

Brisler started the scoring with a 4 yard run in the 1st quarter. Arnold Anderson continued the trend in the 3rd quarter with a 5 yard for a touchdown. After 2 touchdowns by our opponent, Laraun Ambrose broke the tie with a 29 yard sprint into the end-zone.

Neville was led offensively by John Tribble with 98 yards on 12 carries and Ambrose with 88 yards on 11 carries. Chris Sampognaro and Rob Perry topped the Tiger defense.

Neville Escapes West Monroe Threat

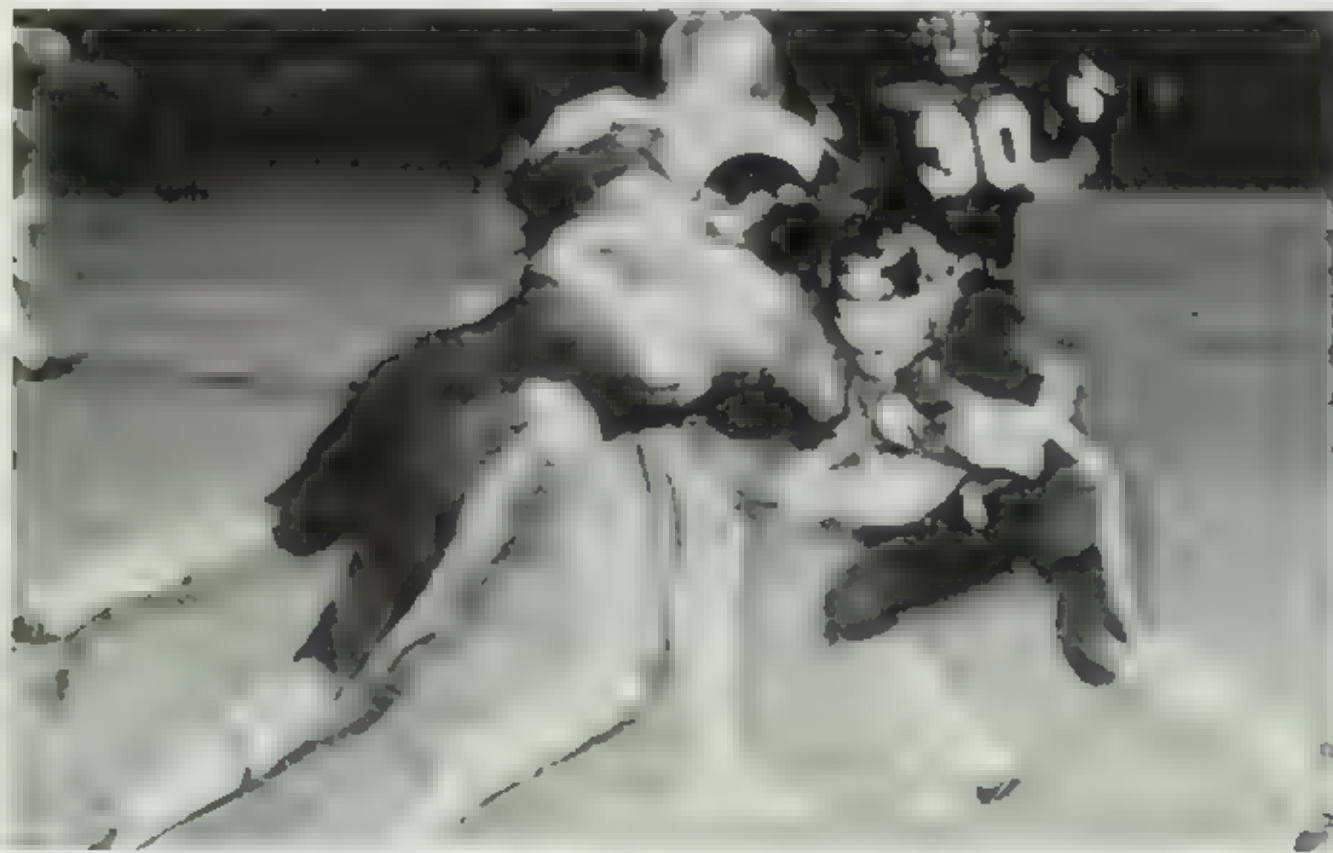

In their 1st district game, the Neville Tigers met across-the-river rival, West Monroe, before a full house at Tiger Stadium. West Monroe had a 7-0 lead going into the 4th quarter, but once again the Tigers showed that Neville never quits.

Laraun Ambrose ran 67 yards for a touchdown, but the 2-point conversion failed, making it 7-6 with only minutes left. A 61-yard punt by Brister backed the Rebels to the 4 with just 3:37 remaining in the game. After Neville had regained the ball at the WMHS 27 with 1:46 remaining, Brister set up the touchdown with scrambles of 9 and 10 yards. Ambrose then carried the ball across the goal line, and the game ended with the score Neville 12, West Monroe 7.

Tigers Creep By Bulldogs

In the final 28 seconds, Neville broke a 0-0 deadlock in a hard-fought battle against cross-town rival -Carroll. The game was a struggle between the defenses as the offense failed to gain any points. Although both teams came close to the goal line, the defense always rallied to stop the drive before it could pay off.

Finally with 28 seconds left, Laraun Ambrose got behind the Bulldog defenders and quarterback—Walter Brister found him with a 60-yard touchdown strike, lifting the Tigers to a hard-earned 7-0 victory at Carroll Stadium.

Neville Wins Homecoming

Full of Homecoming spirit and enthusiasm, the Tigers managed to overcome the Franklinton Demons 26-20. Late in the fourth quarter Franklinton led 20-18. Gerald Coleman, who was called up from the Junior Varsity team to replace the injured Matt Meinel, caught a toss from Walter Brister, and with less than a minute left to play, pulled the Tigers ahead, 26-20.

Homecoming week, with all its excitement and festivities, was successfully completed with the Tiger victory over Franklinton.

Neville Rolls Past Bastrop

Neville rolled up the points in the District 3-AAAA Championship game against Bastrop. Seven different Tigers scored touchdowns as Neville gained 24 first downs, 381 yards rushing and 62 passing. The defense held the Rams to 7 first downs and 47 yards. John Tribble ran 16 times for 130 yards and the first Neville touchdown while Walter Brister threw a pair of touchdown passes, kicked 2 extra points and threw for one conversion.

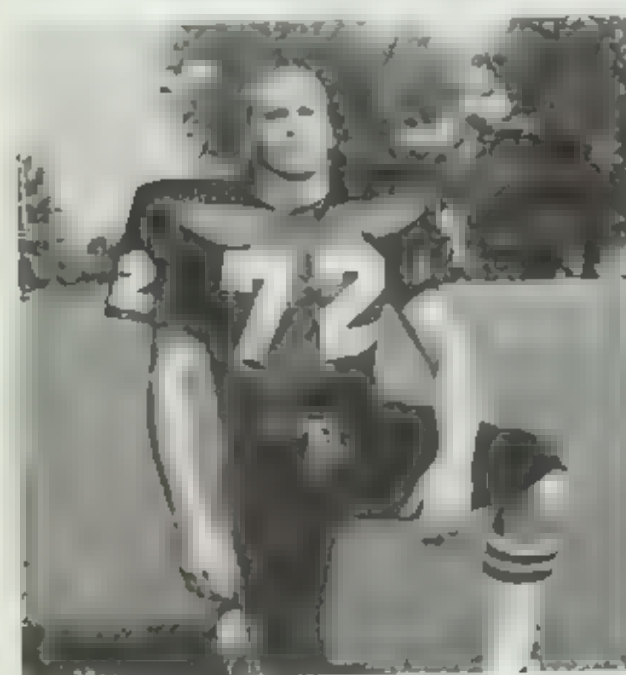

The first quarter was close, with Neville and Bastrop each scoring one touchdown, but the Tigers totally dominated the rest of the game. Most of the time, the Tigers ran simple counters and straight ahead plays with guards—Cant Gibson, Mike Johnson and Randy French provided most of the holes for the hard-running Tribble and seven other Tiger running backs.

Ouachita Upsets Neville

Although Neville won the AAAA District Championship, they lost the battle against Ouachita. Ouachita's defense was down by Ouachita on their first offensive play of the game gave the Lions their first and only touchdown. That was the biggest of their 1-9 season.

Brister scored Neville's only touchdown with 7:59 left in the game. The two-point conversion failed when Brister's pass to Ambrose fell incomplete.

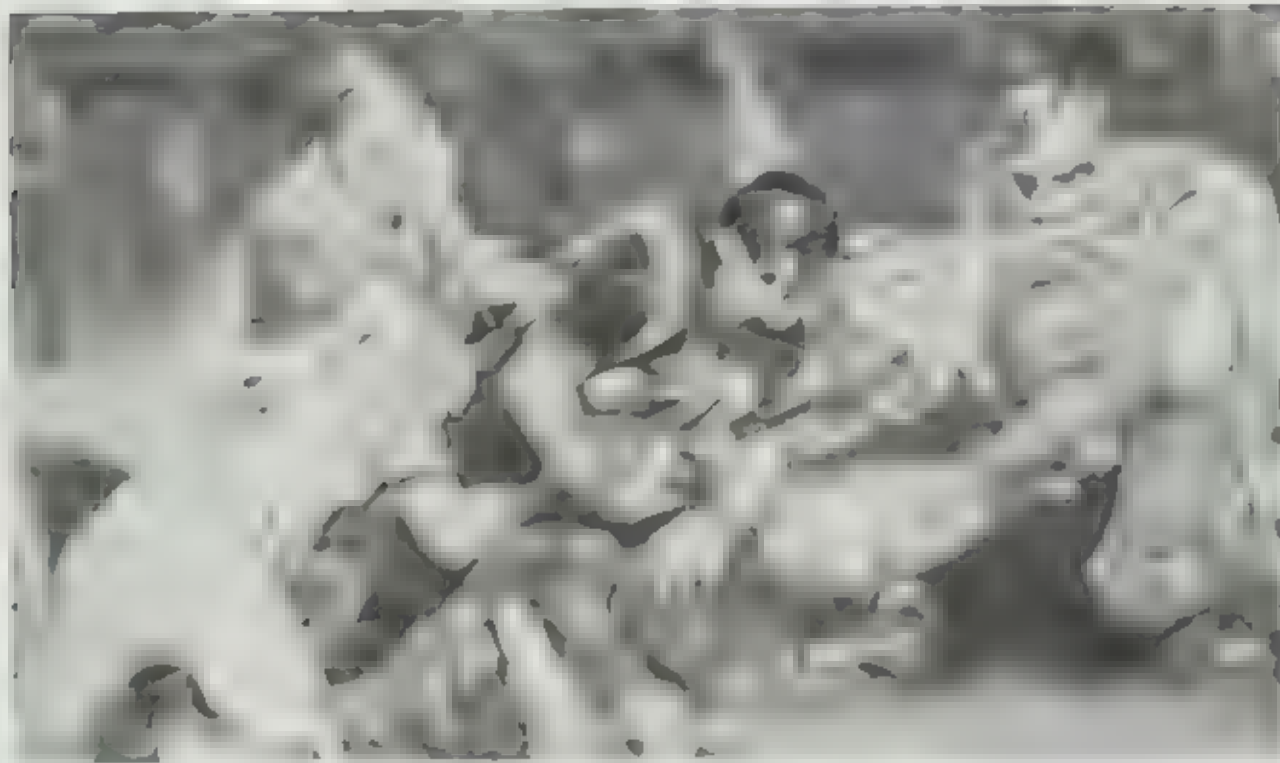

Neville led with 14 first downs to Ouachita's six, and the Tigers outgained the Lions 161 to 60 yards on the ground.

Neville Routs Lake Charles

In their first play-off game the Tigers soundly defeated Lake Charles 22-6. While the Neville offense was rolling up 222 first-half yards and 13 first downs, the defense, led by Chris Sampognaro, Rob Perry, Brady King, and Tony Crews, was limiting Lake Charles to just 10 total yards and no first downs until the final minutes of the half.

After forcing the Wildcats to punt in the first quarter, Neville drove from its own 47, got the distance in 8 plays with Craig Salter following the block of Mike Johnson across the goal line. The second touchdown drive started at the Tiger 12, and in 17 plays Johnson led Ambrose across the goal line from 3 yards out. Brister then passed to Matt Meinel for the 2 point conversion. After giving up 6 points to the Wildcats in the third quarter, Neville finally put the visit away on Brister's 7-yard touchdown pass to Meinel. The Brister-to-Meinel toss was set up by a 57-yard run by John Tribble to the Lake Charles 9 yard line.

New Iberia Nips Neville In Overtime

The Tigers played New Iberia in the regionals of the state play-offs. School was closed for the Thanksgiving holidays, but spirit was high. The players and coaches poured all their energies into practicing and planning strategies. The weather Thanksgiving night was wet and cold, but it did not stop alumni, parents, and students from filling the auditorium. A surprise speech by former Neville Coach Bill Ruple received enthusiastic response. He related many incidents but his message was clear: "That a little extra effort will make them winners". A large crowd turned out Friday night to wish the Tigers well.

The second play-off game ended in defeat for the Tigers, but for a while it seemed as if the outcome would be different. Holding the Yellow Jackets to a minus one yard total offense and first downs, the Tigers built a 14-0 lead, scoring on Walter Brister's 6-yard pass to Gerald Coleman in the second quarter, and on a 3-yard run by Brister after Rob Perry had recovered a New Iberia fumble at the visitor's five. But New Iberia came storming back, marching 62 yards for their first touchdown. Late in the fourth quarter they tied the game, driving 66 yards for the score after taking a punt at their 34.

The game then went into overtime. New Iberia won the toss and chose defense. They successfully defended a tired Neville offense, and on their first attempt, raced toward the goal line to win the game.

The 1979-80 Basketball season was a tough one for the Tigers. The competition in District 3AAAA was among the best in the state.

The Tigers started practice early in the fall. Coach Pee's assistance in learning old plays and new ones helped the team through the tough season. Although the Tigers had little height, they were full of spirit and energy and ended the year with a great season.

Tennis was a year-round affair for the members of the Neville tennis team. Starting in August the members participated in a 6th-period tennis class credited as P. E. In February a round-robin tournament was held to determine the five competing teams for boys and girls singles and doubles. The players began staying after school to practice for the first match held in late February. Neville sponsored her matches at Chennault Park. The team attended seven out-of-town games at places such as Shreveport, Alexandria, and Ruston.

The Robinson Boys, Tom and Matt, were valuable assets to the Tiger team. Last year Matt placed first in the State 14 and Under competition, while Tom placed 4th in the 16 and Under class.

Mrs. Hagar and Mrs. Spears sponsored the team and accompanied them to matches. Mrs. Charlotte Bolton has worked with the Tiger tennis team for many years. She was on leave this year, but she gave the team many hours of her time and support.

Neville tracksters sped through a great season in 1980 under the direction of Coach Mike Vallery. Practice began in early February. Athletes from many different sports were attracted to the challenge of track. The boys worked out with weights and practiced their individual events. The Tigers combined the speed of their relay team and a surprisingly strong show on the field to win many honors. Entries were made in the long jump, the mile, the half-mile, the quarter mile, the mile relay, the 100-yd. sprint, the pole vault, and a new event, the 300-Meter hurdles. The Tiger track team participated in indoor competition at the Civic Center, the District Meet at NLU, other meets around the state, as well as the annual Neville Relays.

Mike Vallery also coaches the J. V. football team. Though he has completed only two years, he already has a record he can be proud of. Last year his team won the district championship and this year he had a 7-2 season. Coach Vallery has a big responsibility preparing his boys for the challenges of the varsity team, but he handles it with ease.

Every year Coach Joe Coats leads the Tiger Baseball team as well as the Freshman football team to a winning season. In the last 15 years, Neville has had eight All-State baseballers and has brought home the State Championship trophy six times. The team spends the spring months practicing in Forsythe Park and playing area high school baseball teams. With most of last year's team returning, experience proved to be a valuable asset.

Coach Coats grew up with the Tigers. He is a former Neville linebacker and his father, Jim Coats, coached at Neville from 1949 through 1957.

The Student Council through its various activities, attempts to represent the student body and school by providing a forum for student expression and to initiate projects for the good of the school and the community. In preparation for the 1979-80 school year the Council was busy. This summer selling Nevine hats and pennants, organizing Freshmen Orientation, publishing a new student handbook entitled "Tiger Tracks" and convincing the city to repave the front circle of the school.

Workshops and conventions provide many opportunities for Student Council leaders to learn to be better leaders in the school and later to become active leaders in the community. The Nevine Student Council was well represented this year at NASC in Winter Park, Florida and at Regional Workshop in Natchitoches, La. by four members and at LASC by six representatives and two advisors.

Homecoming again this year was a success with the help of the Student Council's sponsoring a multi-media show and entering the display contest. Homeroom representatives spearheaded the pumpkin decorating contest for Halloween. The winning homeroom was awarded donuts for their outstanding effort.

During the spring semester the Council sponsored the annual Talent Show and The Senior Superstar Competition as well as a computer dating project.

The Interclub Council serves as an advisor to the various member organizations at Neville. It sees that each club fulfills its objectives as outlined in its constitution. In order to prevent conflict, the Council coordinates the activities of the member organizations by sponsoring a school calendar hung in the lobby.

This year the Interclub Council was responsible for organizing the Homecoming displays, promoting communication throughout the school, the Christmas tree in the lobby, sending Christmas cards to each member of the faculty, and Teacher Appreciation Week.

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to honor students who have excelled in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. This year the club has been quite active in its duties and services.

During Tiger Homecoming '79, the club held a spirit link contest between the classes with the Seniors forming the longest chain. To raise money, they printed and sold student directories. Another activity of the club has been choosing and honoring a "Teacher of the Month" each month. The National Honor Society would like to express its appreciation to Miss Douciere, its most valuable sponsor and advisor.

This year the Home and Family Living Club held a Turkey Raffle, in which eleven turkeys donated by area merchants were raffled off. The club made two contributions to the Goodfellows at Christmas, and also bought ads in the MONROVIAN and the football program. Contributions to St. Jude's Hospital and the Cancer Crusade were also made.

For a newly organized club, the Home and Family Living Club has certainly accomplished a great deal in only a year.

The Speech Club participated in several speech festivals and won awards in debate, duet acting, dramatic interpretation, and poetry reading.

As a group the students were able to attend workshops with some professional actors, among them Anthony Zerbe and Frank Conway.

School activities included conducting a mock governor's election and collection of the results for KNOE for the governor's race. Candy-grams were sent at Christmas to students and balloons were sold at Homecoming.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE CLUB

The Foreign Language Club promotes and maintains interest in the French and Spanish languages and cultures. Members raised money for a trip by selling candy and calendars. They entered a homecoming display to be judged and won third place.

Other activities included a Christmas party, a donation to the Goodfellows, and a Mardi Gras costume party. The Foreign Language Club also participated in the French festival at Louisiana Tech

We, the 1980 MONROYAN Staff, have worked unceasingly to bring this annual to the students of Neville High School. Under the direction of Teresa Free, our editor and only returning staff member, and our sponsor, Mrs. Dixon, we were transformed into an organized team.

We attended the Henington Yearbook workshop at N.E.U. where we discussed the theme and learned new and useful skills. Marcie Stassi won the award for Best Overall Photographer, while John Masters brought home the Best Candid Photograph trophy. Following the workshop, we spent long hot days selling ads, hoping that our $300 minimum would soon be met.

After Mrs. Dixon outlined our theme, the rush began. Emily Wilkey, Dianna Moore, Maria Zaidyar, and Chris McHenry cropped, organized, identified, and alphabetized pictures, proofread and typed copy, and drew tripaks. Kathy Sims and Louise Seymour began a semester of work on copy. Our artist, Dawn Wilbanks, spent long hours perfecting details of each sketch. Despite this, nothing could have been done without time, assistance, and support that Mrs. Dixon so lovingly gave. John Masters, Joel Minter, Steve Nordyke, Marcie Stassi, and Craig L. spent a semester taking pictures—always looking for new ideas. The long hours they spent in the darkroom developing pictures and trying to make life easier for the rest of the staff did not go unappreciated.

Extensive research was done in order to bring you factual information. After thumbing through old yearbooks, questioning students, teachers, and staff, and pooling all our memories, we felt a little eerie, but immensely proud, for we realized that students now under their own power walked these same halls, felt the same emotions, and followed the same traditions as the students of today and tomorrow. Tiger Pride is rooted in tradition. This realization is the essence of the 1980 MONROYAN.

Chorus provides the opportunity not only to explore musical values, but also to learn to cooperate and get along with others for the good of the group. The mixed choir is composed of juniors and seniors. This choir presents Christmas and Spring assembly programs for the school and sings for civic organizations. Students from this group participate in All-State Chorus and area festivals. The freshmen chorus is a mixed group which assists in presenting programs. The choral program is open to all students. For those who are interested in music, but do not care to perform, a course in general music is offered.

Feature Twirler, Tami Tonore

The band is an important part of the campus activities here at Neville High School. It performs at football games, both home and away. Performances at the regular Friday morning assembly are also part of being a Neville Tiger band member.

The Neville High School band always strives to achieve the highest quality in performances. A great amount of pride and determination allows the Neville High band to remain an integral part of Neville High School; its tradition, its purpose, and its excellence.

The Neville High School Flags continued to add visual effect to the music performed by the band. The Flag corp also adds much to any parade, highlighting with dazzling flashes of color.

The Neville Rifle corps added the extra bit of sparkling precision that complimented performances during the half times.

Neville High's Feature twirler is a sight to behold. Her exciting twirling coupled with her commanding knowledge of effective modern dance steps put her in a class all by herself.

The Neville High band is planning to participate in the Christmas Concert, District I Concert Festival, Knoxville Tennessee D'gwood Arts Festival and the annual Neville Spring Concert.

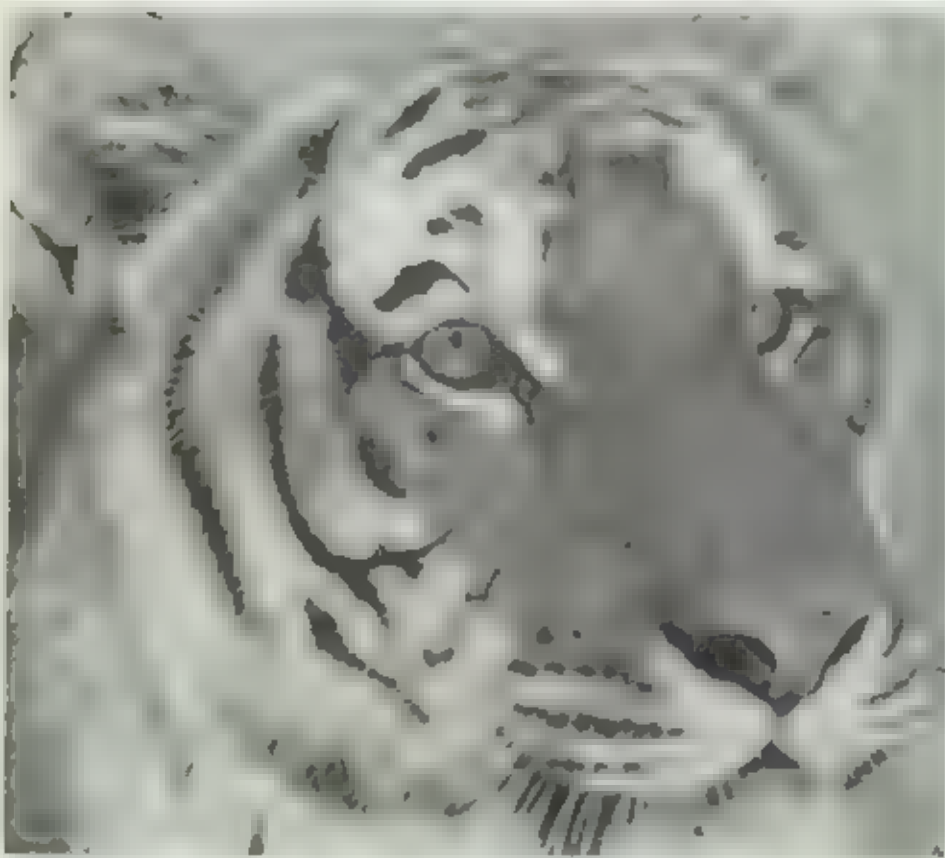

Stage Crew

Students seldom consider who is responsible for the smooth operation of assemblies. Tony Crews, Craig Salter, John Deal, and Bubba Brister, Neville's 1980 stage crew, took care of details ranging from opening curtains to flashing overhead lights. Though they received little appreciation or recognition, these boys were always there, doing a fantastic job.

Tiger Crew

Everyone knows who Shasta is but no one knows who is responsible for his being at assemblies and at all home football games. This years Tiger Crew, Ray Rivers, Bob Saterfield, Dirk Hoogland, and John Masters made sure that Shasta was at these assemblies and games. Shasta, our mascot, is a vital part of our school spirit and a special attraction for our student body and the public at our games.

Look Ahead

Each will go his own way, pursuing his own goals. Memories of laughter, excitement, and sorrow will be the binding, always beckoning, force. We shall return, but Neville will belong to others. Just as she will become but a small piece of us, we shall be remembered as only a piece of her. Tiger Pride will be as strong as we remembered, the alma mater will still stir our hearts. But others, Tigers of future generations, will score the touchdowns and receive the honors. We shall have moved on. Neville will still be more — not just a school. She is a Tiger tradition.

Remember

The school year has ended; only the memories remain. As time passes, these memories will become more precious. As one leafs through these pages, fond memories will spill over. All the love and Tiger Pride will come surging back.

This book represents but a single chapter in the lives of the students of Neville High School. Soon the years spent at N.H.S. will sit high on a shelf, always there, always remembered.

Pride IS The True Tiger Tradition

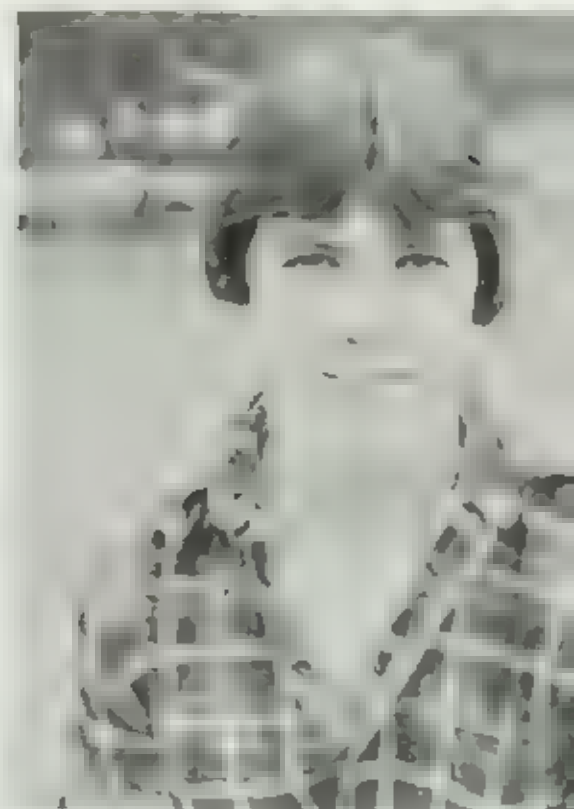

The Tiger goal is to reach the top. A real Neville Tiger will not stop until he is number one. The students' support, their constant striving for the best, has made Neville what she is today—a CHAMPION. Whether on the playing field or in the classroom, students give their all.

Desire to achieve is a Neville tradition. Many years ago a handful of Tigers—Tigers with a goal—set out to make their school the best she could possibly be. They worked, never stopped, pushed, and did not look back. Neville became number 1. This desire to achieve is as strong today as ever before. Greatness is never outdated.

Neville is smaller than rival schools, but she has something special—632 dedicated students; 632 students who believe in their school. Each student contributes his own special talents, but talent is never enough. Neville's secret is something deep in the heart, something stronger than brain or muscle, something that demands the very best—PRIDE—THE TRUE TIGER TRADITION.

LP&L Ad #12 - Nuclear Power (Small)

Nuclear Power:

More than ever, it's necessary

The energy shortage has made one thing very clear: the importance of nuclear power. It can lessen our dependency on fuels in short supply like natural gas and oil. Watertord 3

LP&L's nuclear power plant that is being built 25 miles upriver from

New Orleans—is an important step in this direction. It's vitally needed so that LP&L can continue to meet your electric needs.
